

Thanks For Considering Us!

Team TuneUp is the smart choice for effective Corporate Training and Team Building events! With extensive experience producing successful programs for organizations of every size, we provide outstanding events that are engaging, meaningful, and fun!

About Us

At Team TuneUp, we love what we do, and it shows! We take pride in providing exceptional service, taking the stress out of putting on events. Breathe a sigh of relief, knowing you're in confident, capable hands!

We aren't the biggest company in the market, and that's a good thing! Because we're smaller, we work harder, are more flexible, and have our finger on the pulse of the latest developments in corporate training.

Our Skill Development programs provide learning-rich opportunities for growth, enrichment and ongoing development of your team, while still keeping things fun, interactive and entertaining.

Our Team Building activities are fun, engaging and provide valuable bonding opportunities... But they're more than just fun and games! We design everything we do to also provide key learning points that tie back into real-world business.

Why Work With Us?

We Go The Extra Mile. We're always striving to improve, which means we listen to our clients! We have the unique ability to adjust, alter and adapt our existing events, and can even develop new programs to meet your needs. Give our experienced team the chance to give you the perfect program that is well suited to your group!

Our Proven Track Record. We've provided successful events for companies of every size, industry and demographic. We're interested in making long-term relationships, and it shows in what our clients say about us. Read our testimonials and give us a chance... We think you'll agree that we are dedicated to your success!

Truly Professional Facilitation. Every one of our programs is facilitated by a seasoned professional facilitator well versed in the differing needs of a wide range of groups, industries and demographics. From small groups of elite executives to hundreds of factory workers, and everything in-between, we have the experience to work effectively with your team.

We're Here To Make Your Event Successful and Easy!

"Thanks a million... I would like to say what a fantastic event we had, most people voted it their best event to date!!! Our events coordinator Den Bradshaw is very easy to work with and adapted our event to our liking even at the last minute. I will certainly recommend your group to my peers. Again thanks to Den and the team for a superb job."

Junkyard Orchestra

Collaborative Team Building

A company or team is like an Orchestra... If the individuals that make up the orchestra each decided to do their own solo and play to their own rhythm, it would just be noise all the time.

The key to producing great results is to create unity and harmony... And that's done with a clear plan, leadership, and enthusiasm!

Our professional facilitator takes your team on a fun, rhythmic physical and mental adventure!

Lead by an experienced facilitator with a strong musical background, your team progresses through stages designed to break them out of their "shell," break the ice, warm them up, and get them participating with enthusiasm. As the event progresses, the challenge increases just enough to keep things interesting, while business and team-work oriented messaging is infused by your facilitator.

How the Day Unfolds

Leading up to the event, our facilitator will answer your questions and assist logistics. This is also a great opportunity to share special themes, catch phrases, or areas of emphasis on which to focus. Help us help you!

The day of the event, your Facilitator arrives early with support staff and prepares the event.

After an engaging introduction, your group is led through a fun ice-breaker that sets the tone for the day. Next they collaboratively set intentions for what they hope to get out of their day together. Finally, the program itself is introduced as the facilitator kicks off the event!

Throughout the event, learning points are emphasized, and memorable photos are captured. After the event's finale, the facilitator loops back to the intentions set earlier in the day and gives the group closure on both the learning points, a group photo, and high-fives all around!

Event Specifics: The Junkyard Orchestra Event

First, your team jumps in with the facilitator and staff with a fun, playful and simple shout-beat rhythms. This is a warm-up to what will come next...

Once the group has demonstrated their ability to work together in coordination, they graduate to instruments! They are broken into teams using a fun, creative process, and then the teams are “issued” their instruments. There are 4-6 instrument types available, depending on team size, and thus we break your group into 4-6 teams.

Instruments are then distributed, and each team gets a brief explanation on how to play their instrument, and a quick “sound check” where they get to play without coordination or clear plan... The resulting noise that comes from a lack of coordination serves as a vivid example of how everyone trying to “be a rock star” at once results in a collective failure... The best bands and orchestras are comprised of talented people who have decided to work collectively toward a common goal... Just like your company!

Emphasis is placed on cohesive teamwork, working together and following guidelines, and the value of doing things RIGHT before we do them FAST. (This is a lesson easily extrapolated to business).

Once teams have worked through their parts, we layer them into one entire cohesive team playing together. Pieces that seemed trivial or strange suddenly take on new meaning in the context of the whole (another important business lesson). At first the song is a bit rough around the edges, but through repetition and practice, it gets shaped into a fun, funky piece of music that everyone in the room has a part in playing.

Now that the piece is “mastered” there are opportunities to create more challenge by speeding up the rhythms, incorporating the “shout-beat” from the beginning (including messaging/keywords).

Finally, for loner programs, we include the option of allowing teams to break apart into their own area and develop both group and/or individual “solos” which they will incorporate for the grand finale!

With the finale comes increased speed, chants, solos and a blistering ending with an energized shouted “cheer” from the team!

If you want to energize your team, give them a collaborative bonding experience, or add a special “highlight” to the beginning or end of another day or event, the Junkyard Orchestra is a fun, engaging and memorable way to energize your team and your event!
